GOOD TYPE—Arthur Christy of 125 Boardman Ave. was one of the Hancock County residents who underwent blood typing Monday in the Courthouse. Edgar Little, hospital administrator, swabs the arm after the typing. Follow-up to the Blood Bank typing will be blood donations April 8 in the Youth Center.

Residents Hospital Board Hikes Registered Nurses' Pay

A substantial salary hike was granted to registered nurses at Hancock County Hospital by the hospital board of trustees, who met Tuesday night. The raise was effected, reportedly, in an effort to encourage needed additional nurses to locate in this area.

The action followed an executive session just before the meeting closed.

The board agreed to join the Mississippi Association of Hospital Governing Boards, which presently is working for passage of a revised version of the independent patient-state aid bill which was rejected during the last term of the state legislature.

Hospital administrator Edgar Little explained that membership amounts to $35 per year for each

Delinquency Stems From Insecurity, P-TA Told

Three types of juvenile delinquency stem from the feeling of insecurity, unwanted and insecure, Victor Bernard of St. Francis Farm at Picaune, told Central School Parent-Association Tuesday.

Three classes he listed were the mentally defective, the normal delinquent, and the delinquent who is seeking acceptance and security, the speaker declared.

Delinquency is not caused by society or the class of the child, he continued. "The delinquent is a product of his environment. What does cause delinquency? People say that the surroundings will influence him, but actually there are three causes of delinquency: the home life, the school system, and the business world."

"When we are prone to criticize the juvenile delinquent, we should stop to think: 'Do we want the child to get what he deserves?'"

Parents, teachers and individuals should work toward the welfare of the child, Father Bernard said. "Would a reform school solve the problem or would love and affection be more effective?"

"If we, their leaders, can not live a moral life, then what choice do the children of today have? The juvenile delinquent is out to solve his problems of affection, acceptance, and security, wherever or however he can."

The meeting was followed by a social in the homecoming department, sponsored by the seventh grade room mothers.

Port Firm Now Bidding

Eastling Co. of Gulfport, successful bidder on the $1,000,000 remodeling project, said A. Scalfide said after the bid at 10 a.m. today.

The firm bid $8,650 with 60 days completion schedule.

Other bids were from C. J. McDonald Jr., $9,815 with 75 days completion schedule and R. J. Rauter, $9,985, with 45 days completion schedule.

The remodeling of the firm's office building is scheduled to start within 10 days. Mayor Little said the remodeling of the New Orleans architect's office of the firm of Oubre, involves adaptation of public health service building for use by the firm's office and relocation of the present quarters of the firm's office.

City School Board Speed Special Session Calling

By a 3 to 1 vote, the Bay St. Louis Municipal School Board last Thursday night revised its provisions for calling special meetings by authorizing any three members to summons the board in emergencies upon 12-hour notice. Last Oct. 2, the board provided a five-day waiting period for called meetings.

The speeded up procedure is designed to enable the board to act without delay in matters arising from the current school construction program for which state aid is sought.

Conceivably, the 12-hour provision might also be useful should the board encounter efforts to break down the local segregated school system in the future, trustees noted. In such instances, they observed, the five-day requirement could be detrimental.

Board Attorney Sam L. Favre Jr. assured trustees that their powers at special meetings would be limited in that only business for which the session was called could be transacted at that time.

Dr. W. P. Henderson moved for the 12-hour provision following lengthy discussion of the matter which was brought to the board's attention by Superintendent Joe D. McCullough. Secretary J. W. Watts Jr. seconded the motion. While Dr. Henderson first called for a 24-hour waiting period, he reduced it to 12 at Favre's suggestion.

Trustee Maurice J. Artigues cast the lone dissenting vote and argued against any lessening in the waiting period from the onset. Absent from the meeting was Alton L. Siren.

Artigues, who sponsored the five-day measure last fall, said he was aware it had disadvantages but felt the advantages outweighed them. To cut the notice period might make it impossible for all members to attend, he contended.

Watts noted that he had voted against the existing regulation in the first place and still felt there were times when the board should be able to meet without five days' delay. "The situation in the South may well mean some attempts at integration in Mississippi," he remarked.

Wayne Allison, president of the board, expressed himself in favor of regular meetings but observed that at times on things on which all members agree there is a need for a special meeting for such minor formalities as signing a paper to meet a deadline. (Cont. on Page 5)

School Fund Passes Half Way Mark

Subscriptions for the new $200,000 school for Our Lady of the Gulf Parish passed the halfway mark at the second report meeting Monday night at the parish hall when Brignac said he hopes the 424 pledge cards now outstanding will be completed to push the drive over the top.

Rev. Monsignor Martin Moloney, pastor, joined the general chairman in expressing appreciation for the cooperation of parishioners in the campaign to raise funds to construct a new 16-classroom school for children of the parish. Success of the campaign should enable the parish to have the school ready for occupancy by the fall term of 1960.

The final report meeting will be at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday at the parish hall when Brignac said he hopes the 424 pledge cards now outstanding will be completed to push the drive over the top.

Artigues, who sponsored the five-day measure last fall, said he was aware it had disadvantages but felt the advantages outweighed them. To cut the notice period might make it impossible for all members to attend, he contended.

They are Carl Smith, Dr. Walter Russo, Reese Horton, Tom Garner, Ray Gordon, the Rev. Charles Johnson and K. W. Peppardene.

Among guests were Judge Leslie Grant of Circuit Court and H. Jones, engineer with the state health department in Jackson.

2 Servicemen Indicted As Grand Jury Returns True Bills in 12 Cases

Indictments for jail breaking, robbery and assault of jailer Tony Bourgeois Oct. 23 against two AWOL servicemen were among the 12 true bills returned by the Hancock County grand jury Wednesday afternoon at the close of a three-day session. The grand jury had investigated 18 cases and heard 24 witnesses.

Robert L. Heath, or Robert Heath Jr. AWOL from Ft. Carson Colo., was charged with burglary from the Dairy Dream Oct. 2. He was indicted for armed robbery in the beating of the jailer and escaping with $25 cash and a .38 calibre revolver valued at $40.

Jerry Don Richter was indicted as an accessory after the fact in the armed robbery charge. Both youths are in federal custody.

Willie Neacise, 49, of Bayou LaBatre, Ala., was indicted for manslaughter. He was driver of a car which Sept. 28 struck the car of an elderly Louisiana couple, Mr. and Mrs. Presley M. Blount, killing both of them, on US-90 at the Kiln Road intersection. He remains on $5,000 bond.

Harold Lee Coston, indicted for bigamy, is charged with marrying Jo Nell Walker June 4, 1955, at Jasper, Tex., and then marrying Irma Theresa McKinney June 8, 1957 in Hancock County while still married to his first wife. He remains under $250 bond.

James Ellis and Melvin Joe Johnston were indicted for grand larceny in the theft of equipment valued at $145 Sept. 24 from M. D. (Pat) Rutherford. Johnston was further charged with grand larceny in the theft of a tire valued at $70 Sept. 22 from J. D. Green. Both are free on bond.

Walter Gorman, Negro, was indicted on two counts of burglary and larceny and one burglary count. He is charged with stealing from St. Rose Rectory, $111, Oct. 10; $100 Oct. 24 and another amount Nov. 7. He is free under same bond.

Nicholas Antonica, held in Hancock County jail, was indicted on two serious morals charges, allegedly committed May 28, 1958, and Feb. 28, 1959.

Six cases in which no true bills were returned were not made public by court authorities.

Find Jail Stove Dirty Jurors Find Courthouse Needs Major Cleaning

Housewives had better beware. When the 17-man grand jury came up with an assortment of housecleaning recommendations for county property Wednesday, focused particularly on the Courthouse, it included the pronouncement that the inside of the jail stove was dirty.

Jurors called for general repairs, painting and thorough cleaning for the Courthouse, citing insufficient labor for the conditions. It recommended that the sheriff, custodian of the building and grounds, be given a budget large enough to provide for the needed help.

Charles L. Lee was foreman of the jury. Jurors were Wiley Frierson, Burdick Rester, Victor E. Lind, John J. Green, William E. Mitchell, J. V. Smith, Maurice A. Martin, Ralph Miller, Jervener Saucier, Wilmer Smith, Henry Osolnach Jr., Archie McQueen, Oscar Peterson Jr., Arnel J. Cuevas Sr., Chester M. Bourgeois and Clifford Mitchell. Elmer Seal was bailiff.

Creation of the office of county attorney was advised as a means to assist peace officers and judges in rehabilitation of juvenile delinquents, especially since the county was not deemed large enough for a county judge. The report noted Hancock is the only county in the district without its own prosecuting attorney.

Butcher knives, forks, wires and extension cords and other possible weapons were found by the jurors in the County Jail. Their removal was urged to prevent use by prisoners against the jailer or other prisoners while not under supervision.

The report recommended purchase of a deep freezer for the County Home to allow the custodian to take advantage of savings on seasonal commodities and called for installation of fire exits in each wing of the sleeping quarters. Mrs. Frickie, custodian, was commended for her good management of the home.

No Contract Protest Is Aired by Principal

The Hancock County School Board at a recessed meeting Saturday morning heard protests from the Gulfview School principal over his removal, discussed construction progress at the new North Central School and the rising school bus costs.

The Gulfview principal, Robert Ladner, asked the board for a letter of recommendation to assist him in securing a teaching position elsewhere and Mrs. C. C. McDonald, board president, expressed confidence that when all trustees were at a meeting they would take action so there would be no shadow on his service record.

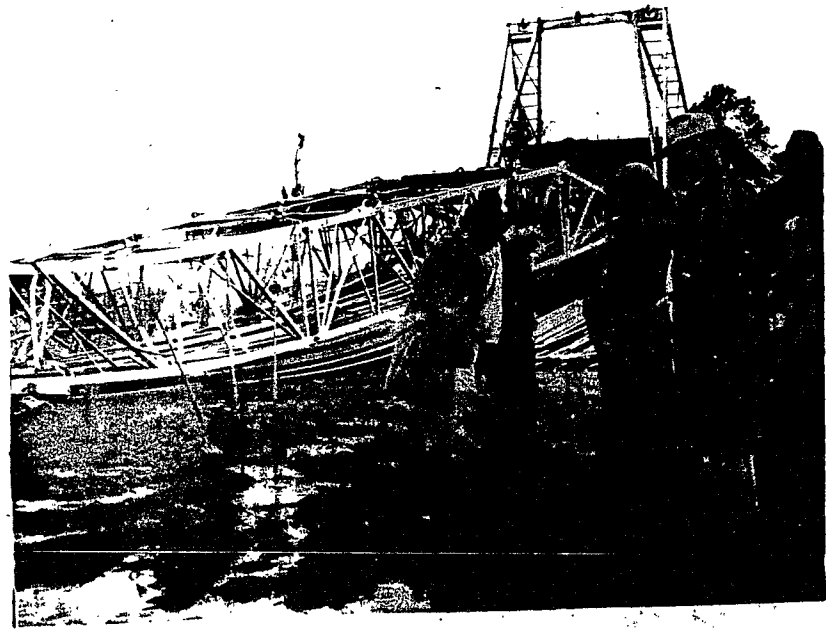

After Ladner had recited a list of grievances he apparently believed led to failure to renew his contract, Mrs. McDonald said she believed he was a good school man but needed more business experience for an administrative post. Because of his comparative youth, it would be well for him to work under an older person for a while, she declared. She indicated that inexperience of both him and his wife may have played a large part in many of the complaints about his administration.

The board at its regular meeting March 2 had named Paul Langphere, currently basketball coach and teacher at Bay High School, as Gulfview principal for 1959-60. Action was on the motion of Trustee Charles B. Murphy, seconded by S. P. Powell.

At the Saturday session, Powell told Ladner that under the conditions in the Lakeshore community, he would not want to teach there. "We are interested in a good school, not political gossip," he asserted, noting that where people are given an opportunity to talk about things they will do so.

County School Superintendent R. E. Breland observed that "friction between the two sections" in Lakeshore was hurting the school children and called Ladner a "victim of circumstances."

The principal voiced about numerous complaints about attitudes of the Gulfview trustees and told the board he would like to bring some of the trustees before it for questioning. (Cont. on Page 4)

FATAL COLLAPSE—Spectators eye the collapsed oil rig which crushed to death derrick worker James W. Taylor, 20, the only man on the rig when the tragedy happened March 5. Salvage operations are now under way on the James R. Crump property near Kiln by the Marshall R. Young Drilling Company, rig owners. It was their first fatal accident in more than 35 years of operations.

Four Enter Contest for Supervisors

The race for board of supervisors posts is featured in the political spotlight this week with four candidates filing for office.

Deputy Sheriff Leonard Ladner of Clermont Harbor has filed in the contest against incumbent R. G. (Manly) Hubbard, who also filed this week for the District 5 post.

Incumbent Supervisor Johnson Shaw of District 3 is officially in the race now and Daniel W. North Sr. is filed against incumbent Jack Lott, board president, who filed earlier in District 4.

L. C. Ladner has filed for state senator. Henry W. Osolnach Jr. is his only Hancock County opposition so far.

Nellius C. Rhodes Sr. has filed as candidate in the fast-growing District 5 JP race. Leslie L. Dedaux, is filed as a candidate for district 3 constable.

Other cases recorded Monday and Tuesday are:

State vs. Duane K. George, "alias" Carl Hough, failed to appear, forfeited bail, with $500 judgment against bondsman; State vs. Emmett Kennedy, no prosecution; Picaune Supply Company vs. S. B. Mitchell, dismissed on merits at plaintiff's cost; City Stores Company vs. A. E. Woolverton and Mrs. A. E. Woolverton, passed to files; Joseph S. Breland vs. William F. Ward and Kitty Lou Ward and Charles F. Burrill et al, dismissed on merits.

A Dangerous Precedent

The board of the Bay St. Louis Separate Municipal School System at its regular meeting last Thursday voted to permit any three members to call a special meeting on 12 hours' notice. Prior to this action five days notice was required in order to have an official meeting.

The primary reason advanced for the change was the necessity for quick board action in connection with the school construction program. However, the board did not limit its authority to act at these hurriedly called meetings. The only limitation is the inherent difference between a special and regular meeting. As board attorney Sam L. Favre Jr. explained, only the matter or matters for which the meeting is called can be acted on at a special meeting. In this it differs from a regular meeting.

Had this summary procedure for calling a special meeting been limited to matters dealing with the school construction program, the Echo would not have this editorial. The authority is not so limited and, while there is no anticipation that this school board or any successor board will abuse this accelerated procedure, the Echo shares some of the concerns of member Maurice J. Artigues who voted against the change. Summary procedures can be dangerous.

It's Progress, Maybe

According to the Wall Street Journal some 75 million pounds of fresh vegetables were sold last year prepackaged in polyethylene film. It did not say how many pounds were similarly wrapped in the rival cellophane, nor how much meat was also pre-cut and sold enveloped in a more or less transparent covering.

Although admitting that some housewives might not like the idea, the Journal apparently approved the rapid growth of this merchandizing method. Certainly it has advantages for the grocer. Customers cannot pick over the produce, pinching and damaging, and dehydration of leafy vegetables is delayed, particularly in refrigerated display cases, where these vegetables need protection from their protector. The hurried customer is aided in being quickly able to grab up a five-pound bag of this or that.

The Echo readily admits that this prepackaging cuts down on spoilage, is more sanitary, and speeds up grocery shopping. Nostalgic memories of non-processed cheeses large enough to age, of open barrels filled with enormous dill pickles, and of butchers, mighty men, hauling out a quarter or side, sharpening their cutlase-like knives and cutting the customer's order probably should not interfere with progress and sanitation, but . . .

Last Friday New Orleans had its ninth traffic fatality for 1959. The previous week Hancock County had its fifth. According to the latest World Almanac the population of New Orleans is 570,455, while that of Hancock County is given as 11,891 (1950 census). But then different public authorities control US-90 in New Orleans.

Congressional Sidelights

By Rep. WILLIAM M. COLMER

CIVIL RIGHTS
Before a House Judiciary subcommittee made up entirely of Northern members hearings are in progress on a second, tougher civil rights bill, one with all the more objectionable features that were eliminated from the first civil "rights" bill, plus several new and more stringent provisions. On the Senate side similar force bills have been introduced, in addition to the so-called "mild" bill introduced by the Democratic Leader, Sen. Lyndon Johnson. The press has speculated that this was a move on the part of the Democratic Leader to further his Presidential aspirations. Senator Humphrey, another Presidential hopeful, predicted on a TV program with Senator Ellender that a much stronger bill than Johnson's would be passed by the Senate. Douglas and Javits and Humphrey and others all have stronger versions available. Should Johnson's bill be brought to the floor of the Senate, there is no telling where it might end, with the Southern position in the Senate weakened by the change in the filibuster rules and some falling away of its already thin ranks. It will be remembered that last year the two Senators from Tennessee, two from Texas and one from Florida voted for the "civil rights" bill.

But it is apparent that so long as the South remains disinclined these further acts of regimentation of the people will continue. We repeat our oft-stated position that if the South would become a united, cohesive force and exercise its independence, it could again become a potent political influence that would effectively offset the power now being exercised by the politically powerful minority groups.

CURSING THE COURT
On the plus side of the ledger, we are happy to report that another subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee (not stacked with Northern liberals) has reported to the full committee two bills that would curb the United States Supreme Court.

They are: 1. The States' Rights Bill, sponsored by my chairman, Rep. Howard W. Smith of Virginia, and myself among others; and 2. A bill, also sponsored by me, to correct the so-called Mallory decision of the Court which has freed many criminals because the Court held in effect that because of delay of even several hours in arraigning the prisoner while the confusion was being obtained, violated his civil rights. These bills were passed by the House last year, but were killed in the Senate. We hope that they have better success this session.

BLACK SPOT ON ROSES

The common name of this disease comes from the circular black spots with irregular borders which appear on the upper leaf-surfaces of the rose leaves. Several spots may appear on one leaf, finally uniting and covering most of the leaf surface. The areas between the spots soon turn yellow and the leaf falls. Rose plants may be completely defoliated; and when this occurs the buds, which ordinarily would not grow until the following year, push out leaves. This late growth often does not mature in the fall and the plants winter injured badly. The following year the plants are weakened and they will not flower well.

The fungus that causes the roses to become infected in the early spring over winters in the old dead leaves. These leaves should be raked up and burned. If allowed to remain on the ground, they will very quickly re-infect the leaves and then it is too late to apply preventive measures.

Special emphasis should be placed on the fact that the control of black spot is entirely a preventive measure. It is too late to do an effective job of controlling or subduing this disease after it enters the leaves. We recommend that the control program begin when growth starts in the spring. The fungicide should be applied at weekly intervals during the summer. During periods of frequent rains, they spray or dust should be applied twice a week. Good cultural practices which insure unchecked, vigorous growth of the plants are also important. Disease are always more severe where roses are not properly grown.

Apply either dust or spray thoroughly to both top and underside of leaves. Dusts recommended are sulphur, 10 per cent ferbam and captan. To prepare one gallon of spray, mix one of the below recommended materials with water according to directions:

Sulphur wettable powder - 2 tablespoonsful; Feramate wettable powder - 1 teaspoonful; Captan wettable powder - 1 1/4 tablespoonsful; Orthocide - 50 per cent wettable powder - 2 tablespoonsful.

DAIRYING

Just because you have a lot of young, tender grass and clovers growing in your pastures, don't be tempted to stop feeding hay to your dairy cows.

Keep that hay available in racks where the cows will have access to it. You'll be surprised how much hay a cow needs when on lush, succulent pastures. Even though the hay might not be of the desired high quality, the good your cows will get from it will far more than repay the cost of the hay.

Dairy cows need hay at all times. Hay is a good all-round

O Lord, lead us all to the calm certainty of Thy power and presence. Grant to people and to nations the constancy of spirit to walk with merciful purpose through the dangers of our time and before the wonders of Thy unfolding universe. Help us make these words our own: "He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for Thou art with me."

Human nature often prevails, and it is man's views and ideas that come to the surface that sometimes create circumstances in churches that allows for justifiable criticism. ## Ordinance of 1888 Poses Dog Woes for Waveland

Stray dogs, claimed and unclaimed, are a nuisance in most of this country, but in Waveland they pose a special problem, particularly to Town Marshall Fred Bourgeois. This came to light at the Town Council meeting last week.

A citizen wanted council to tell him what to do about several dogs that kept getting under his house and with their scratching, kicking, muttering and other doings ruining his nights. No one on council could remember any dog ordinance, but Town Attorney Dan M. Russell Jr. insisted there must be one. "Every town has one."

After long search he located one that understandably no member of council remembered. It was passed in 1888. Under it, the town marshal was to "impound in the usual way" all loose dogs. If not claimed and paid for in three days the marshal was to kill the dogs. Marshall Bourgeois immediately wanted to know what to use for a pound. His car was suggested.

That doesn't and the marshal's problem. Another provision of the ordinance requires the marshal to destroy all dogs found running loose during dog days, July 1 to Oct. 1.

5,000 Seedlings Used on Highway

Beautification of Highway 15 through the town of Maben has been completed with more than 5,000 seedlings and shrubs having been set out. More than 5,000 pine seedlings alone were used at intervals and at desirable places along the highway right of way.

Also, Crabapple, Magnolia, Pyracantha and Crepe Myrtle Shrubs were placed at intervals and properly spaced with the pine seedlings. This was a project under the Hometown Development Program.

Delta State Has Satellite Station

The wraps were taken off a secret satellite tracking station 10 miles from Hollandale in Feb. for members of the press and a group of leading citizens.

The station was built at a cost of about $500,000 for the U. S. Navy for tracking satellites—friend or foe. It is part of a network of surveillance stations located at strategic points across the extreme southern portion of the United States.

County Schools...

Ladner told The Echo after the meeting that he expected to run for county superintendent in the coming Democratic primary and felt the reports on his intentions had propelled the board toward relieving him.

Brelard reported that North Central School should be ready for inspection in early April and said it was still too wet to work on the yard.

Trustee Lucis Neacase asked if a football stadium were included there but Brelard and Board Attorney Walter J. Phillips said the school will have to grow into that later. R. E. Webb, principal, reported that only junior high athletic contests are planned the first year because of limited equipment. He said he did not consider it wise to go to the varsity level immediately.

When Neacase raised his eyebrow over the transportation bill, Webb suggested the board might probe the possibility of a school garage for servicing. Powell asserted most of the trouble lies with condition of the roads while other members were inclined to blame some drivers.

Webb submitted proposals for the faculty at North Central and told the board he has notified each person in writing of the 16 quarter hours' requirement he has made to meet all A and AA requirements for certification. Action was deferred on both that list and one for Gulfview School until 7 p.m. Friday when the board will reconvene in an effort to give personnel an answer prior to the Mississippi Education Association meeting.

At its March 2 session, the board reelected all teachers at Loggown School, Oscar C. Brelard was named principal for the sixth consecutive year. Others appointed were Miss Oleya Keller, Mrs. Eunice Casanova, Mrs. Mabel Smith, Mrs. Rosalie Crawford, Mrs. Jacqueline Hoyer and Miss Gertrude Perkins.

Mrs. Ramsey Cameron was notified that no further warrants would be paid her for transportation of children until her bus route is operated satisfactorily. The board reserved the right to cancel the contract.

Allocation of poll tax funds was approved with $4,142 earmarked for the county system; $5,105.49 for the Bay St. Louis Separate School District; and $385.32 for the Piquette School District. Breakdown of 1958 funds was $3,260.20 for the county, $4,080 to Bay St. Louis and $335 to Piquette.

Fout Arrested At Waveland In Car Theft

A 27-year-old New Orleans man was arrested Friday night in the Sobral Avenue, Waveland, summer home of his father and stepmother on charges of stealing and transporting a car across a state line.

James R. Fout of 2340 Prentice Ave., New Orleans, was taken by Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner Jr. and Deputy Latham Garriga to Hancock County jail on suspicion of stealing his father's 1957 Mercedes-Benz.

He is lodged in Harrison County jail, where he was taken Saturday, after waiving hearing on the charges before U. S. Commissioner Irene Herbert in Biloxi. Bail was set at $1,000.

Acting on a report at noon Friday from Hardin Shatuck, manager of Coast Electric Co., that the car was bogged in the mud on company property, Sheriff Ladner called New Orleans Police Department. Authorities there had issued a stolen car bulletin with a description of Fout, who was believed armed with a .38 calibre revolver and considered dangerous.

Fout admitted the theft to the sheriff and deputy and said he had pawned the revolver at Waveland Drug Store for $10.

Black Car Hits Bridge at Bayou

About $600 damage was estimated in a one-car wreck Friday night on Bayou La Croix Bridge, Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner, investigating officer, said.

John W. Black of 105 Mitchell St., Piquette, was released on $100 bond for trial at 6 p.m., today on a charge of reckless driving and property damage by Beat 5 Justice of the Peace Nolan S. Ladner.

Forest Fires Across State, Hit Hancock

Twelve forest fires in Hancock County during the five-day period from Feb. 28 through March 4 burned a total of 334 acres, according to Marion Parker, area forester.

Throughout the state, Mississippi Forestry Commission fire-fighting crews in the 70 protected counties suppressed some 690 fires which burned 8,958 acres in the same period. The highest single day was March 4 but March 2 almost equalled that date with 227 fires and 4,079 acres burned.

Rain on March 5 halted the fire occurrence but only temporarily for high winds immediately followed that rain and continued through the sunny morning of Friday.

The state suffered 1,630 fires which burned 20,752 acres in January and 1,312 fires which burned 19,076 acres in February. Thus, the 5-day period mentioned above accounted for half as many fires as the total month of February and one-third as many fires as the total month of January.

If a fire occurs near you or if you know of a fire burning, report it immediately to your nearest fire tower. In Hancock County the tower is Rocky Hill, telephone HO7-4811 at Kiln.

BALLARD CAR—This is the 1958 Oldsmobile which was involved in a two-vehicle collision on US-90 Friday morning. Mrs. Sam Ballard was driving this car when it skidded off the road into the path of a pickup truck driven by a Saucier Negro. Ballard suffered a broken shoulder and concussion and was treated in Hancock County Hospital.

Ballard Breaks Shoulder In Auto Mishap on US-90

Samuel Ballard, former Bay St. Louis newspaperman, suffered a broken shoulder and slight concussion when the 1958 model automobile driven by his wife was involved in a two-vehicle collision at 9:45 a.m. Friday on US-90 four miles west of Pearlinton.

Mrs. Ballard was summoned to appear March 19 before Justice of the Peace Joe Bennett on a reckless driving charge, according to Highway Patrolman K. V. Allen who investigated. The trial was postponed from Wednesday.

Allen said Mrs. Ballard was driving east on 90 at an apparently high speed. Braking her car to avoid striking State Highway Department workers repairing the south side of the road she skidded 65 feet across the highway at a left angle.

The couple were thrown from their car when it collided six feet off the north side of the highway with a pickup truck driven by Richmond H. James, Negro of Saucier, who skidded off the road trying to miss the skidding vehicle.

James suffered possible knee injuries and Luther Blackledge of Saucier his passenger, cuts and abrasions of the forehead. Mrs. Ballard was treated for minor abrasions and her husband was taken to Hancock County Hospital.

Mrs. Ballard blamed mud on the side of the road, which the highway workers were pumping under the road, for the skid. She said the highway workers had "jumped out suddenly" to signal her to stop. A 3.5 inch rubber hose was stretched over the south side of the highway.

Damage to the Ballard auto was estimated at $600. Patrolman Allen estimated $900 damage to the pickup truck.

Favre estimated damage to the truck at $150. Sonter has been charged with reckless driving and released on $35 bond, pending trial Saturday by Beat 5 Justice of the Peace Nolan S. Ladner.

Board

Superintendent McCullough referred to this in broaching the question after he and city officials had been to Jackson the week in quest of state funds. Because some of the applications had not been signed at the time of presentation, he expressed concern that the municipal separate system's allocation might be damaged. Those could not be signed except at a board session and were taken care of at the March meeting Thursday, when a matter of policy, hiring a score was in. Alliston indicated he would go along with the five-day plan. Henderson suggested the change be in order on the building and other agencies.
There's room for middle school on the building situation, he admitted, but should not be the question he maintained. There was all the more reassurance full membership at the meeting. "If that should be, we won't have a meeting."

GARDENING TIPS

What do you have growing in your garden? Onions, greens, radishes, potatoes, English peas? Probably these, and more.

March is a big gardening month. Be sure your rows are ready - all worked and fertilized - for planting as soon as the time arrives. The list of vegetables for planting gets longer and longer in March and April.

When you figure frost is gone and its time to set your tomato, pepper and other plants, get them off to a good start with a starter solution. Make it by mixing 1 pound of 5-10-5 fertilizer in 5 gallons of water. Keep the solution stirred. Use 1 cupful around each plant as you sow it.

INCOME OF STATE TAX LEVIES JUMP

This was the news back in March 1934 when the state's entire income tax yield for the first quarter of the year was only $83,476. And this was a 33% jump over the same period of 1933. The sales tax brought in $127,888 that month. In fact, all the taxes collected for the first quarter of 1934 totaled only one and a quarter million dollars.

The legally-regulated beer industry pays nearly $4 million a year in Mississippi taxes nowadays. Last year, it paid nearly one-fourth the amount needed to sustain Homestead Exemption, and provided a substantial source of funds for Old Age pensions, school and rural road programs, and other necessary government functions.

There is ample evidence of increased public acceptance of beer as the light, bright beverage of moderation. For instance, beer sales in food stores are third largest among all beverages — exceeded only by milk and coffee.

Increased sales could mean greater tax yields in Mississippi. Probably because our malt beverage taxes are among the very highest in the nation, such increases have not developed.

Church Tells Sale of Land

Sale of $17,000 worth of residential property has narrowed Christ Episcopal Church's debt for its day school to $10,000. Total cost of the school buildings and equipment, built since 1951, was estimated at $114,000 by the Rev. Charles R. Johnson, rector of the church and headmaster of the school.

The property, which includes lots 4, 5 and 6 on Phillips Street, was sold in February to Mr. and Mrs. Julius Baum, once used as a parsonage, it has been rented for residential purposes since purchase of the school and parsonage property in 1951.

The sale was recorded officially as by the Episcopal Diocese of Mississippi, which holds local church property in trust.

'World Cyclist' is Bay Visitor

Calling himself a world cyclist, bearded, long-haired Walter E. Devine pedaled into town Tuesday afternoon with tales of a globe circling trip which he claims to have started in 1952 and hopes to complete in 1966.

The 39-year-old Hollywood, Calif. native, interviewed at Phillips 66 Cafe on US-90, indicated the trip was being paid for but would not reveal the identity of the benefactor who is making possible the excursion into every nation in the world possible. "I have passports for every country, though," the visitor said, "and documented proof that since the trip began have shaken hands with President Eisenhower, Canadian Prime Minister Diefenbaker, the governors of 48 states and the premiers of the nine Canadian provinces."

Devine stops frequently to lecture to school and organizational audiences on bicycle safety. "Always ride with the traffic," he urges bicyclists. "I'm making this trip to prove that it is possible to travel in safety if the proper precautions are taken," he added.

The beard and long hair make people notice him, Devine says, so that he can more easily let them know the reason for his trip.

With about 75,000 miles behind him, Devine says he can average about 120 miles in nine hours. He will get to South America for a two-year tour via Houston and El Paso, Tex., and Mexico, Europe will be the first stop away from the Americas.

Although the hospitality of Southern people appealed most to the modern Marco Polo, the scenic beauty of Montana, with its mountains and valleys and a 1,200 unbroken miles over a gravel road through a giant wooded area, were most impressive to him.

Using a small bag of tools, the traveler makes small metal name plates for many of the people he meets along the way. He also carries equipment for making wire and plaster of Paris sculpture.

GLOBE PEDALER—Walter E. Devine shows Phillips 66 Cafe waitress, Mrs. T. Oliver, the bicycle which so far has carried him through the first four years of a planned 14-year trip around the world. Devine stopped Tuesday night in Bay St. Louis and planned to go on Wednesday to Houston, Tex.

Red Cross Drive Here is Moving 'Rather Slowly'

The Red Cross fund drive, conducted annually in the county by the local chapter and a host of volunteer workers, entered its second week with contributions coming in "rather slowly", co-chairmen Robert L. Hamilton and W. Ray Gordon reported today. Lagging collections were blamed partly on inclement weather which has plagued the area recently.

Goal for the drive is $3,752, of which $1,737 will be sent to national headquarters.

"After the 1947 hurricane which caused great destruction in Hancock County," Hamilton said, "over $200,000 worth of disaster relief was provided by national headquarters. When one thinks of the average $1,500-$2,000 sent annually to national headquarters from this area, one must also be reminded that it will take some years before the citizens of this county will come anywhere near repaying this amount by their annual contributions."

"As recently as two years ago when Hurricane Brenda caused some damage here, disaster funds were made available by the American Red Cross," Hamilton concluded.

Door to door canvassing is being conducted throughout the county and Hamilton said a first report will be available sometime next week.

Hospital...

 many of the most expensive calls were to nearby coastal cities. Little explained that often it was necessary to confer by phone with a doctor or other hospital official on matters concerning the care of a patient here. Such calls were apt to be long since the information needed could not always be secured immediately or without brief consultation. Patients generally do not use the phone for long distance calls, since there is a pay phone on the porch of the hospital, but if they do, they are charged for the call in their bill, Little added.
 Dr. A. K. Martinovich Jr. said that doctors very occasionally use the phone when a call must be made from the hospital, rather than delay getting information for the welfare of a hospital patient by going to their office phones.

ICC Gets Commuters' Brief in L&N Case

Gulf Coast Association filed a brief March 4 with the Interstate Commerce Commission, winding up the association's protest against the application of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company for permission to discontinue operation of commuter trains Nos. 9 and 12 between Ocean Springs and New Orleans.

Mr. Bourgeois Is Dead at 73

Funeral services took place this afternoon for Henry Alcee (Harry) Bourgeois, 73, lifelong resident of Waveland, who died at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday at his home, 725 Roberts Street. He was a carpenter by trade.

Services were at 2:45 p.m. at Fahey Funeral Home followed by religious services at St. Clare's Catholic Church in Waveland and burial in Waveland Cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, the former Miss Ida Bordage; three children, Harold J. and Paul A. Bourgeois, Mrs. Rita Jones, all of New Orleans, and Chester Bourgeois of Waveland; three brothers, Freddie Bourgeois of Cut Off, La., Edgar and Anthony Bourgeois of Waveland; two sisters, Mrs. Lottie Ladner and Mrs. Ada Edel, both of Waveland; seven grandchildren, two great grandchildren and a number of nieces and nephews.

Vorbush referred to testimonies of 29 persons in the 63-page brief. Examiner Blond indicated during the hearing that decision on the case would probably be in May. An ICC board will decide the issue on the basis of the record of the hearing testimonies, Blond's suggestions and the lawyers' briefs.

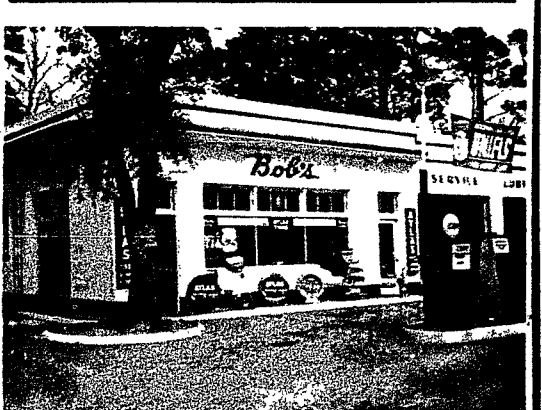

Company for permission to discontinue operation of commuter trains Nos. 9 and 12 between Ocean Springs and New Orleans.
